Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the Health Department today. Two of them were children, while the third victim was a middle-aged man. The number of victims of the disease reported up to date is seventy. This number, however, does not give certain indication of the actual number of victims, since the health regulations do not require that such cases be reported to the department.

The infectious agent is present in the saliva and mucous members of the saliva cannot be seen through the microscope, and in behavior is much like the cause of measles, foot and mouth disease, and yellow fever. The infectious agent is present in the saliva and mucous membrane of the nose during the first days of the attack, but how long it may there exist after paralytic symptoms appear has not yet been determined. It has been proven, however, by experiments on monkeys, that secretions from a patient suffering with this disease will, if rubbed into the mucous membrane of the throat in the monkey cause the disease, and this monkey if placed in a cage with others will convey the disease to them.

"This disease usually affects children and occasionally young adults, and one case is known in a patient of sixty years of age. It usually sets in with headache, fever, and sometimes delirium, and the patient may apparently suffer from a severe cold. If death does not ensue within a few days, pain may be complained of in one or more limbs, and later motion in them is limited and finally lost, Occasionally repovery takes place, but usually the affected limb or limbs become paralyzed permanently. "No treatment is know which will arrest or modify the disease. "Isolation of the patient will prevent the syread to others, and parents should be careful to keep their children away from others who may be suffering from any of the symptoms above mentioned."

The Public Health and Marine Hespital Service sent an expert to Iowa several weeks ago upon the urgent request of the health officiars in that State. The disease in Iowa was spreading more rapidly and was causing more alarm.

Dr. Rice delivers at least one lecture a day before the crowds at Great Falls. Yesterday, he spoke on the peculiarities of the Habrew people. This afternoon he treated the Song of Songs. Tomorrow, he will talk on Job, a tragic ideal. The fourth day of the Methodist camp meeting opened this morning with class drill, conducted by the Rev. F. J. ALEXANDRIA, VA., AUG. II.

A trial of the newly invented electric device for the ringing of the bell in the tower of the Reliance Fire Company, No. 5, toeic place last evening, shortly after 7 o'clock.

The device worked admirably, but the small storage batteries were not atrons, enough to make the hammer hit the bell hard. This will be remedied at an early day, when it is proposed to obtain electric current from the city to work the attachment. The device is operated from the lower floor of the engine nouse, there being two sets of push buttons. These buttons are Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4. Unon sa alarm coming in from the Sirts ward, the button marked one is pushed. In. The bell in the tower then strikes one, and after a few seconds intermission rings the alarm. This is repeated as long as the button is pressed. The device will also stop the clock, open the stall doors, and record in a box over the front door the ward in which the fire is.

The device is the invention of Milton F. Padigett, a member of the company. No. 5, was held last evening.

Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-gages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "cith edge" finestments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or cor-porations for their stability and are chempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from 55% upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."
